Who we are & What we do

Disability Rights Arkansas's Mission Statement:

To vigorously advocate for and enforce the legal rights of people with disabilities in Arkansas.

History of the P&A System

Rivera's story draws national attention/ public outcry

Using a "borrowed" key, Geraldo Rivera climbed the fence and entered Willowbrook one night with a hidden camera in the first of a series of investigative reports for WABC in New York.

The expose, entitled Willowbrook: The Last Disgrace, captured the nation's attention. A class action lawsuit was filed against the State of New York on March 17, 1972. A settlement in the case was reached on May 5, 1975.

Abuse and Neglect Exposed

Legislation

Congress passed the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act in 1975

Protection and Advocacy Systems (P&As) were established

P&As were charged with protecting and advocating for the rights of individuals with developmental and/or intellectual disabilities

P&As must operate with independence from the state or federal governments

THERE ARE

P&A systems in the U.S. and its territories, including the District of Columbia and a Native American P&A.

The P&A Network

Establishment in Arkansas
